Returning Veterans' Homestead Exemption

EXEMPTIONS ENACTED BY HB 664

Beginning with taxable year 2007, a homestead exemption, limited to a reduction set forth under section (b), from the property's value, as equalized or assessed by the Department, is granted for property that is owned and occupied as the principal residence of a veteran returning from an armed conflict involving the armed forces of the United States who is liable for paying real estate taxes on the property and is an owner of record of the property or has a legal or equitable interest therein. For purposes of the exemption under this Section, "veteran" means an Illinois resident who has served as a member of the United States Armed Forces, a member of the Illinois National Guard, or a member of the United States Reserve Forces.

You will need a copy of your DD214 and/or overseas order to substantiate that you supported an armed conflict for your county assessor's office to receive your property tax exemption of up to $5000.

It is not retroactive prior to tax year 2007, and it is up to $5000 off of the assessed value of your property NOT your tax bill. There is no limit on the outlying years to apply, if you qualify. Depending on your tax rate the exemption amount will vary.

(35 ILCS 200/15-167)

Sec. 15-167. Returning Veterans' Homestead Exemption.

(a) Beginning with taxable year 2007, a homestead exemption, limited to a reduction set forth under subsection (b), from the property's value, as equalized or assessed by the Department, is granted for property that is owned and occupied as the principal residence of a veteran returning from an armed conflict involving the armed forces of the United States who is liable for paying real estate taxes on the property and is an owner of record of the property or has a legal or equitable interest therein as evidenced by a written instrument, except for a leasehold interest, other than a leasehold interest of land on which a single family residence is located, which is occupied as the principal residence of a veteran returning from an armed conflict involving the armed forces of the United States who has an ownership interest therein, legal, equitable or as a lessee, and on which he or she is liable for the payment of property taxes. For purposes of the exemption under this Section, "veteran" means an Illinois resident who has served as a member of the United States Armed Forces, a member of the Illinois National Guard, or a member of the United States Reserve Forces.

(b) In all counties, the reduction is $5,000 and only for the taxable year in which the veteran returns from active duty in an armed conflict involving the armed forces of the United States. For land improved with an apartment building owned and operated as a cooperative, the maximum reduction from the value of the property, as equalized by the Department, must be multiplied by the number of apartments or units occupied by a veteran returning from an armed conflict involving the armed forces of the United States who is liable, by contract with the owner or owners of record, for paying property taxes on the property and is an owner of record of a legal or equitable interest in the cooperative apartment building, other than a leasehold interest. In a cooperative where a homestead exemption has been granted, the cooperative association or the management firm of the cooperative or facility shall credit the savings resulting from that exemption only to the apportioned tax liability of the owner or resident who qualified for the exemption. Any person who willfully refuses to so credit the savings is guilty of a Class B misdemeanor.

(c) Application must be made during the application period in effect for the county of his or her residence. The assessor or chief county assessment officer may determine the eligibility of residential property to receive the homestead exemption provided by this Section by application, visual inspection, questionnaire, or other reasonable methods. The determination must be made in accordance with guidelines established by the Department.

(d) The exemption under this Section is in addition to any other homestead exemption provided in this Article 15. Notwithstanding Sections 6 and 8 of the State Mandates Act, no reimbursement by the State is required for the implementation of any mandate created by this Section.

Child Support Modification During Military Reserve/National Guard Mobilization/Activations

The State of Illinois has an interest to ensure that child support payments are made in accordance with State law based upon all sources of income and appropriate deductions during long-term military activation periods for Reserve and Guard personnel.

All citizens, regardless of personal income levels, who have Illinois court or administrative orders involving child support may apply for child support modification and enforcement services through the Title IV-D Services Program of the Illinois Department of Public Aid (IDPA). These child support enforcement and modification services from the IDPA come at no cost to the applicant.

When a National Guard or Reserve member is mobilized or activated to long-term continuous military active duty orders (defined as greater than 30 continuous days), his or her income may change during the temporary period of military service. Members of the National Guard or Reserves who are placed on long term orders and who have been previously ordered by an Illinois court or by Administrative Order of the Illinois Department of Public Aid (IDPA) to make child support payments are required to continue current child support payment amounts until ordered otherwise.

The below links highlight what various parties who either pay child support or receive child support for dependent children need to do to apply for Title IV-D services through the IDPA. In addition, procedures for military and civilian staff members charged with military activation/mobilization administration are listed below.

All procedures must be followed to ensure that the IDPA can expeditiously process service applications from interested parties. Go to www.operationhomefront.org, Benefits & Rights, Reservists and National Guard Rights; and click on Child Support Adjustment Information. All forms are located at the bottom.

Servicemembers Civil Relief Act

A Summary

The Servicemembers Civil Relief Act of 2003 (SCRA), formerly known as the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 (SSCRA), is a federal law that provides protections for military members as they enter active duty. It covers issues such as rental agreements, security deposits, prepaid rent, eviction, installment contracts, credit card interest rates, mortgage interest rates, mortgage foreclosure, civil judicial proceedings, automobile leases, life insurance, health insurance and income tax payments.

You should contact your nearest Armed Forces Legal Assistance Program office to see if the SCRA applies. Dependents of servicemembers can also contact or visit local military legal assistance offices where they reside. Please consult the military legal assistance office locator for each branch of the armed forces.

In order to have your SCRA case reviewed by the Department of Justice (DOJ), you must first seek the assistance of your military legal assistance office. If that office cannot resolve the complaint, it may choose to forward the complaint to the DOJ. The DOJ then will review the matter to determine whether DOJ action is appropriate.

Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994

What Protections Does It Provide?

USERRA seeks to ensure that members of the uniformed services are entitled to return to their civilian employment upon completion of their service. They should be reinstated with the seniority, status, and rate of pay they would have obtained had they remained continuously employed by their civilian employer. The law also protects individuals from discrimination in hiring, promotion, and retention on the basis of present and future membership in the armed services.

To qualify for USERRA's reemployment rights, a servicemember must meet the following eligibility criteria:

- The servicemember must have left a civilian job;
- The servicemember must have given notice to the employer that he/she was leaving to perform military service;
- The military service must not exceed five years (although there are a few exceptions);
- The servicemember must have had an honorable discharge; and
- The servicemember must have reported back to work within the appropriate time constraints.

Employers must reemploy returning servicemembers in the same job that they would have attained had they not been absent for military service and with the same seniority, status and pay, as well as other rights and benefits determined by seniority. Reasonable efforts must be made to enable returning employees to refresh or upgrade their skills to enable them to qualify for reemployment. Additionally, servicemembers are entitled to immediate reinstatement of health insurance for the member and previously covered dependents with no waiting period and no exclusion of preexisting conditions other than those that are military service-related.

Employers must reemploy servicemembers who are disabled because of their military service in a position most nearly approximating their former position if they can no longer perform that job.
