

List of websites that will help you in your job search

<http://www.indeed.com>

Indeed is the #1 job site worldwide, with over 50 million unique visitors and 1 billion job searches per month. Indeed is available in more than 50 countries and 26 languages, covering 94% of global GDP.

<http://bright.com>

Steeped in data science, Bright eliminates the noise in the hiring process by efficiently connecting job seekers to their best opportunities, and employers to their top prospects. We unlock the power of artificial intelligence and big data to establish a one-to-one signal between candidates and successful outcomes. Bright is not just an innovation in online job search, it's a mission to move the labor markets faster.

<http://topusajobs.com>

Visit a single Job Board to review the unique career opportunities posted on the top career sites. Apply for career opportunities on the websites that have openings matching your career interest and expertise. Target your resume on specific career sites instead of burying it in an unfocused resume graveyard.

<http://www.uschamber.com/hiringourheroes>

Hiring our Heroes campaign is designed to encourage businesses to hire veterans and military spouses

<https://h2h.jobs/>

Hero to Hired has job search, job fairs (including virtual), mobile apps and more to assist with finding jobs.

<http://www.employerpartnership.org/find-jobs>

Employer Partnership of the Armed Forces; a job search engine in the spirit of Monster.com and others, but exclusively for service members and their families.

<http://www.scottafr.com/employment-support/>

375th Airman & Family Readiness Office Employment - Lots of great links for state to state jobs and job search sites

<https://msejobs.militaryonesource.mil/>

Military Spouse MSEP is part of DoD's broader Spouse Education and Career Opportunities (SECO) initiative, which seeks to strengthen the education and career opportunities of military spouses by providing career exploration opportunities to help them understand their skills, interests, and goals; education and training to help them identify academic, licensing, or credentialing requirements that can help them reach their career goals; employment readiness assistance to optimize their self-marketing skills; and employment connections that help them find and maintain a rewarding career. MSEP, a targeted recruitment and employment solution, creates employment connections that provide companies with direct access to military spouses seeking career opportunities and spouses with direct access to employers who are actively recruiting. MSEP currently has 96 partners, who have hired more than 10,000 military spouses.

<https://www.nationalresourcedirectory.gov/employment>

Even if not a veteran, there are many great resources on this website - The National Resource Directory Veteran Job Bank - Find the resources you need as you transition from the military to a civilian career, identify programs and workplace supports for wounded warriors, and learn more about employment rights, protections and responsibilities _____

<http://www.military.com/hiringourheroes/>

Hiring our Heroes - Job search tools provided by the US Chamber of Commerce for veterans or spouses seeking employment.

<http://www.mynextmove.org/>

New DoL Website which really sits atop Occupational Net (O-Net) with tools to help determine a job or industry a potential employee may like to work. O-Net itself catalogs all jobs and describes the knowledge, skills and abilities needed to do a particular job. It also shows the salary range, right down to a state or local area.

<https://usmilitarypipeline.com/>

A job search engine designed to put military talent in with civilian employers _____

<http://www.careeronestop.org/reemployment/>

Career One Stop is sponsored by the U. S. Department of Labor, Employment and Training Administration and is designed to help those who lost their jobs get reemployed.

<http://www.turbotap.org/register.tpp>

Although TurboTap was created to assist members in transition to military life, it offers a wealth of information regarding everything about securing a new job.

<http://www.usajobs.gov>

USA Jobs, the U.S. Government's official site for jobs and hiring information.

<http://godefense.cpms.osd.mil/>

Job search site for those seeking careers in National Defense.